Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Investigation of transportation conditions surrounding the movement of coal from all competitive coal fields to be made by the Illinois Commerce Commission for a comparison with Illinois rates to be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

An order entered today by the commission directs its engineering department to compile the comparison for an exhibit to be offered on the Interstate Commerce Commission docket.

The commission authorized the Chicago & Alton Railroad to publish with one day's notice a rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds on building and roofing paper and related articles in carload lots of 40,000 pounds minimum points to Waterloo and Columbus.

Application of the Illinois Central Railroad to discontinue certain trains through Stephenson, Ogle, Lee, LaSalle, Marshall, Woodford, McLean and DeWitt counties was dismissed without prejudice.

Other orders entered by the commission were:

Reopening case for further hearing on the petition of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad to discontinue trains 307, 309, 304, and 311, between Alton and East Alton.

Former Justice of Supreme Court Must Answer Girl's Charge

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A motion in behalf of Charles C. Craig, former Illinois Supreme Court Justice, to dismiss the $150,000 damage suit Miss Fern Yates of Chicago filed against him was overruled by Circuit Judge George Hillier today.

The motion was based on grounds that counsel for Miss Yates failed to file a cost bond but when the woman's lawyer, Edward Chaves, Chicago, said he was willing to file the bond, the court denied the motion.

At the same time Attorney Chaves asked a change of venue from Knox county, alleging Miss Yates would be unable to get a fair trial in this county "because Mr. Craig was powerful politically and influential financially as president of several banks in the community." The court set Feb. 18 to argue the venue motion.

Attorney Chaves asked an earlier date for arguing the motion. "We want a trial this term of court," he said. "The defense has dragged the case along too long now." His motion to default Mr. Craig for failure to plead to the original declaration in the suit and also to the amended complaint was set for argument tomorrow. If the court should sustain this motion, the defense would be given a judgment without trial.

Miss Yates has charged the former justice with failure to keep a verbal contract with her, by which he was to provide a fund for her son, who she says is the son of Mr. Craig. She said Mr. Craig paid $22,500 and then ceased his payments.

Dive Keeper is Held for Assault on Wife

Davenport, Iowa, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Joe Maloof, alleged dive keeper, who police say is involved in a string of federal white slave and liquor charges, was held to the Scott county jury today under $15,000 bonds for a murderous assault upon his wife, Mrs. Lillian Maloof.

Attorneys for Maloof were attempting to have bonds totaling $24,500 in five cases reduced so he could regain his liberty before the March term grand jury session.

The Maloofs came here early in December from Gary, Ind.

DENIED NEW TRIAL

Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 4.—(AP)—John Vaughn, convicted of slaying Max Shepler on Huron Island, will be sentenced Tuesday for second degree murder. Judge Smyth overruled his motion for a new trial.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

New London, Iowa, Feb. 4.—(AP)—J. L. Baird, 39, of Galesburg, Ill., brakeman on the Burlington Route, was killed near here when he slipped and fell beneath his train.

HOOVER MEETS PARTY LEADERS IN CONFERENCES

President-elect to Concentrate on Work During Week

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover is concentrating this week on some of the problems ahead of him, including Cabinet appointments, legislative affairs and administration policies.

Engagements have been made with several of his close friends and advisers, among them Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, who is to arrive today from Washington, and Thomas T. C. Gregory, his neighbor at Stanford University.

Other callers will include Glenn B. Skinner, Republican National Committeeman for Florida, with whom the next President is expected to discuss the Florida political situation.

Mr. Hoover probably will accept the birthday celebration invitation of his old friend, Thomas A. Edison, at the inventor's winter home at Fort Myers, a week from today. He probably will make the trip across the state by motor.

Inquiries now are being made on behalf of the next president to determine whether he can get in some fishing south of Fort Myers where he leaves the Edison estate. He would like an opportunity to try for tarpon around the Shark river in the southern part of the Everglades.

This spot is isolated with the nearest town of importance thirty miles or more away. Mr. Hoover would be accompanied by Mrs. Hoover and friends and probably would spend most of next week on another fishing expedition.

Police Found Bomb in Parked Automobile

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A bomb that never reached its destination was discovered by police last night in a parked automobile.

Looking in the tonneau the officers found a five-inch length of pipe, packed with dynamite. The explosive, they said later, was intended for the bungalow of Kurt Krober, a real estate dealer.

Anthony Di Giodanni and Tony Vitello, who were in the automobile, were arrested. Neither would talk, but police learned that Krober recently had a dispute with another business man.

Foch is Slightly Better, Bulletin

Paris, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Slight improvement in the symptoms of Marshal Foch was noted today by his physicians, Drs. Daveniere and Heitz-Boyer. They made no attempt in their morning bulletin, however, to conceal the persistence of the pulmonary congestion and fever.

The largest bronze statue in the world is the winged statue of Victory, near Turin, England, 60 feet in height.

CONGRESS FACES SHORT MONTH TO FINISH BUSINESS

Cruiser Bill Still Before the Senate: to Limit Debate on It

WHAT CONGRESS IS DOING (By The Associated Press)

Calendar day in House; Senate considers cruiser bill.

Senate Interstate Commerce committee opens hearings on bill to extend life of Radio Commission.

Tariff hearings continue before House Ways and Means committee.

Senate Immigration committee has before it proposal to postpone national origins clause.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Congress met today mindful of the fact that it had exactly one month more to go, and a short month at that.

Outside the Capitol workmen were hammering on stands for Herbert Hoover's inauguration. Trying for speed, so time might be available to consider pressing legislation, the Senate limited debate on the cruiser construction bill.

Numerous amendments had to be acted on; but a vote was expected by tomorrow. Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, sought elimination of the time-limit clause.

Almost all of its work completed, the House again dealt with minor legislation. Several uncontested measures were passed. Opportunity was also provided for members to express themselves on bills in which they were interested, both by brief speeches and by insertion of remarks in the congressional record.

House Studies Marriage

A subject far removed from naval construction concerned the Senate Indian Affairs committee. It tried to find out just how Jackson Barnett, an aged and wealthy Creek Indian, happened to marry.

Testimony by the Creek Indian, which has long been in the public eye, caused some laughter at the hearing. The Indian said in broken English that he had never proposed. His wife sat nearby, later declining to waive immunity for questioning.

Rates on jute were before the House Ways and Means committee, dealing with how the tariff should be revised under the Hoover administration. Senator Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana, advocated increase of the jute fabric levy, and removal of raw jute and waste bagging from the free list. He was supported by Representative Jones, Democrat, Texas.

Radio enthusiasts preferring chain broadcast programs had their views given to the Senate Interstate Commerce committee by H. A. Lafont of the Federal Radio Commission. He endorsed the proposal to extend the Commission's life a year. The House Merchant Marine committee continued hearings on that same proposal.

The House Military Affairs committee heard witnesses oppose the American Cyanamid Company bid to lease Muscle Shoals.

Report Trotzky is Enroute to Exile

Constantinople, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A raging storm, nature's counterpart of the political tempest his life has known, held the secret today of Leon Trotzky, Russian Soviet exile.

Somewhere on the gale-tossed waters of the Black Sea the Soviet steamer Krasny Flot had sought a haven from the worst storm seen here in years. Rumor has it—Trotzky, bound from exile in Russia, Turkistan to a new place of exile in European Turkey.

Trotzky's presence aboard the ship could not be affirmed. There has been no word of his having left Russia, although departure was believed to be imminent. Such has been the mystery with which the Soviet has shrouded him, however, that this may indicate nothing.

The ship's agents here would not deny his presence aboard. Probably not until the storm clears and the ship itself is located will the truth be known.

There is general acceptance here now that the Russian leader will be sent by the Soviet to this country shortly, if he is not already enroute, to continue his exile.

There was no improvement in weather conditions today and the ship's arrival here may be long delayed.

Lincoln-Douglas Society is Formed

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln's famous debate with Stephen A. Douglas at Freeport, Ill., August 27, 1858, resulted in the incorporation of the Lincoln-Douglas Society of Freeport.

Purposes of the society are to promote celebrations of the debate, educate the public in United States history, acquire funds to erect memorials and acquire relics of the famous antagonists.

Incorporators are: J. R. Jackson, L. A. Fulwider, A. R. Dry, F. A. Read and D. F. Graham, all of Freeport.

DEMPEY ASKS WRIT

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—Jack Dempsey, promoter of the Sharkey-Stripling fight, today instructed a firm of Miami attorneys to request a court injunction restraining W. L. Young, Stripling's manager, from the use of an airplane or motorcycle until after the fight.

DAIRY FARMERS, MILK DEALERS TO ACCEPT VERDICT

Arbiter Fixes Price of Milk at $2.64 per Hundredweight

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Dairy farmers supplying the Chicago market will receive $2.64 per hundredweight for milk, at least until April 1.

The price, which represents a compromise between the $2.85 demanded by the farmers in the recent milk controversy and the old price of $2.50, was set Saturday night by the arbiter, Dr. Clyde L. King of Philadelphia.

The Pure Milk Association, representing the farmers, and the dealers indicated yesterday they would abide by their advance agreement to accept Dr. King's decision.

Don R. Geyer, field manager of the Pure Milk Association, said, however, that the result of the arbitration was a "deep disappointment" to the farmers.

ELECT C. C. DIRECTORS

Members of the Chamber of Commerce today received ballots for the election of six new directors, the primary last week resulting in the nomination of the following: George Burch, Wm. Albright, J. L. Glassburn, Robert Sterling, Henry Hey, Wm. F. Hogan, E. D. Countryman, Dr. Z. W. Moss, S. C. Stanfield, Geo. Beier, Louis Knick, J. Frank Bennett, Glen Coe and John Davies. Ballots must be returned to the Chamber office before 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The decision made the new price effective, January 1 and ordered the buyers to pay a one cent checkoff for each hundredweight to the Pure Milk Association. Previous agreements to buy only from farmers of the association and to consider the question of non-members not later than May 1 were approved.

The price controversy which brought about the arbitration started several months ago and reached its climax early in January when dairy farmers went on "strike" for two weeks and diverted nearly a half million pounds of milk daily from the metropolitan market.

MARTIAL LAW IN VALENCIA, SPAIN FOLLOWS REVOLT

Premier Declares Army is in Control of the Situation

Madrid, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Alarming reports of open rebellion of the garrison at Valencia, southeastern coast of Spain, were met by the Government of Premier de Rivera today with an official statement that the situation there had cleared and that the military was keeping discipline.

To prevent recurrence of the situation, however, the Premier said, the government had found it necessary to fortify its position with the establishment of a strong dictatorship in the affected area.

He added that the government would not change the dates of the pending international exhibitions at Barcelona and Seville. Nor, he said, would the visit of the King and Queen of Denmark, who are en route to Spain, be deferred.

Hits Former Premier

Messages conveying this information were dispatched to civil governors and Captains-General of all the provinces. The Premier added that he felt the utmost indignation that a single man, "his reason clouded by hate," had been able, with a small force of malcontents, to alarm the country through several days, damaging enormously the prestige and credit of Spain with the rest of the world.

The reference was obviously to Jose Sanchez-Guerra, former Premier who is now in prison at Valencia after his re-entrance into Spain in connection with the initial uprising at Ciudad Real last Tuesday.

Rigorous censorship of news dispatches destined for outside of Spain allowed only an incomplete picture of what actually happened at Valencia, noted for its oranges. No clear account of what was described as "open rebellion" of the garrison there, or of the measures taken to suppress it could be obtained.

A fairly logical account was current in Paris, however, that the garrison had attempted to free Sanchez-Guerra. Other troops opposed the effort and what was described as "sanguinary fighting" took place.

Two Aviators Die in Crash in South

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Barnwell P. Howell and Andrew Brink, attached to the naval flying squadron here, were killed here today when their airplane crashed in mid-air during a formation flight.

Howell was 24 years of age, and Brink, 21.

The navy planes collided in mid-air at seven hundred feet altitude. They crashed to the ground killing the pilots almost instantly.

Brink's plane was one of three in formation flying.

Both were flight students and flying solo. They were attached to the Pensacola naval station.

They motored to Miami, Fla., visited several cities on both the east and west coast, and leaving Florida stated for New Orleans. The flooded condition of the Mississippi made it necessary for them to abandon this part of their trip and they reach home Friday evening.

ELECT C. C. DIRECTORS.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce today received ballots for the election of six new directors, the primary last week resulting in the nomination of the following: George Burch, Wm. Albright, J. L. Glassburn, Robert Sterling, Henry Hey, Wm. F. Hogan, E. D. Countryman, Dr. Z. W. Moss, S. C. Stanfield, Geo. Beier, Louis Knick, J. Frank Bennett, Glen Coe and John Davies. Ballots must be returned to the Chamber office before 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

SUN SPOILED SKING.

A number of skiing enthusiasts drove to Rockford Sunday afternoon bent upon enjoying the big slide near that city. Upon their arrival, they found that the snow which showed brightly throughout Saturday, had melted the snow and ice to such an extent that it could not be used, and they returned home to enjoy the natural slides which have furnished so small amount of outdoor recreation for some weeks past.

ASKS $20,000 FOR LEG.

A jury was being selected in the circuit court this afternoon to hear the damage suit brought by Mrs. Frances Simpson of this city against the Chicago & North Western Railroad Company in the sum of $20,000.

Mrs. Simpson with her nephew Justin Rapp, figured in an unusual accident on state highway, route 2, on the night of January 21, 1927, when their automobile crashed into an east-bound freight train at the cut off.

Mrs. Simpson sustained injuries which necessitated the amputation of one of her legs. She is suing the railroad company to recover damages and is represented by the law firm of Keller, Dixon & Gehant. The firm of Dixon, Devine, Bracken & Dixon is appearing for the railroad company.

DR. HAD BAD FALL.

Dr. L. R. Evans sustained concussion of the brain yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock while skiing with a party of friends at the Plum Hollow golf course, and is confined to his home. He was resting quite comfortably this morning and his early recovery was anticipated.

Dr. Evans and other ski enthusiasts went to the ninth hole at the golf course where they found an ideal slide down a steep bank. The dentist was the first to attempt the slide and his skis struck a small ditch at the bottom of the incline which threw him backward, his head striking against the ice with considerable force and rendering him unconscious.

He was taken to his home where physicians attended him and upon examination, discovered that his injury had not been a serious one.

King George Gains Strength Slowly

London, Feb. 4.—(AP)—King George is gaining strength slowly and was able to sit up for a short time Saturday and Sunday.

Yesterday His Majesty was moved from his bed to a chair placed at the window of the sick room in Buckingham Palace so that he might enjoy the sunny day.

After a general consultation by five physicians today the following official bulletin was issued:

"The King continues to gain strength slowly and was able to sit up Saturday and Sunday for a short time. The question of ray therapy has been further considered. The period for administration of ultra violet rays has terminated and it will now be possible to supplement this treatment by the addition of luminous rays."

Twenty-Six of Crew of Steamer Drowned

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The waters of the Douro river near Oporto held the bodies of twenty six members of the crew of the German cargo steamer Delster today.

The steamer was driven on the rocks during a gale, a huge hole in her side causing her to founder immediately. The crew assembled on the top deck but enormous waves hurled twenty of them into the water before they could find life preservers. Six others held to the ship as it sank. Rescue boats did not find a trace of any of the men when they reached the scene.

The boat was bound from Antwerp to Lisbon.

EUROPE SUFFERS IN COLD; WORST IN A GENERATION

At Least 44 Met Death in Storms and Cold Over the Week End

London, Feb. 4.—(AP)—At least 44 persons met death in Europe over a week-end of unprecedented storm and cold conditions, the Balkan, states and Turkey being particularly heavily sufferers.

Shipping was everywhere deranged, especially in the Black Sea, where numerous minor wrecks were reported.

The most serious disaster was off the coast of Portugal where the German freighter Delster foundered yesterday after being driven on the rocks during a violent gale. The crew of 26 assembled on the topmost deck, but a huge wave hurled 20 of them into the sea. The remaining six went down with their vessel.

The second largest disaster was in the Russian Turkish town of Alma Ata, where a landslide on Saturday swept 11 persons to their deaths. It was in this town that Leon Trotsky, former leader of the Red army, was in exile for many months.

Four workmen sent to clear the tracks of the Smpion Express in Thracian Turkey were frozen to death and the work of digging out the train, which has been blocked by snow for three days, was called off.

Three persons were frozen to death in Budapest and many others were suffering from exposure. It was the coldest day in fifty years, the temperature dropping to 20 below zero Centigrade in some places of Hungary.

While London groped through a choking fog, which was the worst of the winter, a belt of bitter cold wrapped itself around Europe and Asia. Shipping along the China coast was bucking an ice barrier 30 miles out to sea, and clear across Europe and Asia there was a cold wave which has not been surpassed for a generation.

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 4.—First Lieutenant Herman Henry Hanneken, U. S. M. C., of Missouri, has captured Manuel Maria Jiron, one of the chief leaders of Agustino Sandino's forces and head of the expedition which destroyed American mining property in the Pispis river district last April.

The capture took place in the Department of Jinotega where Jiron has been terrorizing coffee plantations. Details of the exploit have not been received.

Lieut. Hanneken gained distinction in Haiti in 1919 when he captured Charlemagne, a notorious Haitian rebel leader.

BULLETS BREAK UP SALTIS MOB; BOSS IN PRISON

"Traffic Manager" of Beer Runners Got His Yesterday

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Bullets continue to cut down the membership of "Joe Saltis' mob."

Eddie Piech got three bullets in the chest yesterday when he found police waiting for him in his apartment. Last Thursday it was Steve (Bull Cain) Kuczyński, "traffic manager" in the beer business of which police say Saltis is the head.

The shooting of Piech by Police Sergeant Thomas Casey occurred when Piech tried to escape. He complained of feeling ill and asked Sergeant Casey to get him a drink of water. As the officer stepped into the kitchen, Piech leaped for the window, smashing the pane with his fist. Before he could jump, Casey fired three times.

With blood oozing from his wounds Piech propped himself against the wall.

"Gimme a pass (let me escape)," he said to Casey. "It's worth $100 to you."

"Nothing doing," the officer answered.

"Five hundred, then," said Piech. "Aw, cut it out," Casey said.

"All right, shoot me," shouted Piech, lurching toward the window as though to jump the 20 feet to the ground.

The officer fired again, and Piech, wanted in connection with the Savoy ballroom, the Granada Cafe and other recent robberies, fell with another bullet wound. His condition today was said to be critical.

Lieut. William Cusack, identified Piech as a member of the "Saltis mob." Since Saltis went to jail, he said, the gang has become disorganized, many members of the mob turning from beer running to other crimes.

ROCKEFELLER AND STEWART CONTINUE BATTLE FOR VOTES

Each Gains Support in the Fight for Control of Oil Company

New York, Feb. 4—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Colonel Robert W. Stewart today each had an additional recruit from the ranks of the stockholders in their battle of proxies for control of the management of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.
At the same time the shadow of Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, nemesis of the Teapot Dome conspirators, fell across Stewart's path with a reminder of the Continental Trading Company bonds. It was displeasure with Stewart's testimony before Walsh's committee concerning the bonds which caused Rockefeller to demand his removal from chairmanship of the Board of the Indiana company.
Frank D. Brewer, president of the Glen Ridge, N. J., Trust Company, announced his decision to give his proxies to Rockefeller. He said he owned only a small amount of the stock. With the announcement, although not saying whether it influenced his decision, Brewer made public a letter from Senator Walsh in which Walsh expressed surprise that some stockholder of the company had not brought suit to compel the payment by Stewart of what the Senator said was due the company from him in interest on uncalled coupons from Continental Trading Company bonds.
Louis Boreman of the Boreman Drug Company of Pittsburgh sent a telegram to Rockefeller saying he had thrown his lot with Stewart, giving as one reason the fact that Rockefeller had left the country, making it "almost impossible for me to communicate with you." Boreman said he owned 6200 shares of Indiana oil stock and that resignation of the officers would be nothing short of a calamity.

REACTION OF GOVERNOR IS AWAITED NOW

Wonder if Emmerson Will be Satisfied With Dismissals

By MORRIS WATSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4—(AP)—Will the Governor be satisfied with the number of employees dropped from the state payrolls following his retrenchment order of last week? This question, which is foremost among the things discussed behind the imposing pillars of the state house, promises to make Louis L. Emmerson's fourth week as Chief Executive interesting regardless of the answer.
There is a feeling that reductions already made are too slight to effect any great saving; that department heads are taking the order too much as a mere gesture that calls for another mere gesture from themselves. Just how much the order was gesture is expected to be revealed early this week when Mr. Emmerson looks over the results.
Another thing watched with interest is the possible reaction of the Governor to the reported defiance of the Commerce Commission. That body is said to have sent a complete list of its employees to the executive offices with a polite request that Mr. Emmerson do his own pruning.
Then, several departments, it is said, have replied to the retrenchment order with the information that no "dead weight" is employed. It is believed in some quarters that the Governor may let the matter ride as it is until he fills the six remaining cabinet posts. His third week held only one cabinet appointment, that of Ralph Bradford of Pontiac as Director of Conservation. He also appointed Wencel Hetman of Chicago Assistant Director of Purchases and Construction and re-established the mining investigation committee, making nine appointments to that body.
Friday the Governor went to Kankakee to attend a banquet and Saturday to Mt. Vernon, where he asked directors of a bank to accept his resignation as president.
He is expected to send the budget to the General Assembly tomorrow without fail. It was to be sent last week, but was held up for some unexplained reason. Mr. Emmerson made it plain last week that the budget was left over by the Small administration and is being sent as it was left because of the press of time.
Once in the hands of the legislature, though, the budget is expected to undergo many changes and be often amended.

DEPUTY SHERIFF HELD FOR DEATH OF 'BEST FRIEND'

Is Accused of Murder of Connecticut County Detective

Willimantic, Conn., Feb. 4—(AP)—Trenor Rice, deputy sheriff and former constable of Chaplin, was under arrest today, charged with the murder of his friend and benefactor, County Detective William E. Jackson, who was found shot to death in the kitchen of his home Tuesday night.

Lieutenant Edward P. Leahy of the Willimantic police said Rice had confessed to former State Trooper Rowe H. Wheeler, but Edward J. Hickey, a county detective who has headed the investigation forces, refused to confirm this.

Rice was arrested at the Jackson home last night, after 25 hours of questioning interrupted briefly for the interrogation, for the first time, of Mrs. Jackson and her daughter, Juanita, 24.

Questioning of Rice was started Saturday night after his return from the Jackson funeral at which he was a pallbearer, for the purpose of "breaking him down."

Ordered from House
Hickey said last Sunday Jackson, recovering from an attack of influenza, had ordered Rice from his home although previously he had allowed Rice to live there.

Rice admitted several days ago that he believed himself a suspect, but added "do you think I would kill Jackson? Why, he was my best friend."

Hickey said Rice first came under suspicion when he failed to "convince me regarding his two revolvers." Hickey said he believed the slaying "an inside job" and that the slayer had taken Jackson's 32 calibre revolver from a bureau drawer, fired it at the detective, removed the discharged shell, cleaned the revolver and replaced it.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

© 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

One of the most important things in the life of an adult is what we call the "psychological moment".

Still more important is the "right moment" in the life of a child and in your training of him.

If you wish to teach a little lesson it is better to wait for one of these times. Undoubtedly there are moments when your boy or girl seems nearer to you when there is a clearer understanding, a deeper sympathy.

What you say then will be remembered much longer than if you choose a time when his mind is filled with something else.

If John is all excited about going to a movie, that isn't the time to call him into your room and give him a talking-to about his rude treatment of Grandma.

If you think your son is not as careful of Grandma's feeling as he should be the thing to do is wait until a day when he is in a particularly thoughtful mood and then in a skillful and not too personal way tell him the real reason for being kind to old people and Grandma in particular.

How To Explain
"You see, John, it isn't so very long ago that Grandma was a young woman like me, and Daddy was a boy like you. And now she has no home of her own and she pretends to herself that you are her little boy and this is her home all over again, and she loves you as much of more than she did Daddy. So we mustn't give her cross answers and we have to pretend we like it when she fusses over us too much."

That kind of talk, whether it is about Grandma, or getting lessons or helping about the house, will register with John a thousand times more deeply if you wait for the psychological moment.

It is the same with discipline. Nothing throws off punishment as completely and quickly as a guilty conscience. As soon as a child has done wrong and knows it, he builds up a wall of defense for himself that all your scoldings and disciplining won't break through. He will be only too apt to resent them as being unjust.

But wait until that false wall of defense has vanished. It may take a day or more. And then talk to him about his misdeed when he is in a frame of mind to listen to you and profit by what you tell him.

We are apt to get after children when it suits us, not them, and usually it suits us when we have control of our tempers. Take the combination of the defense-wall of the child and the outraged excitement of a parent, and that is a very poor time for discipline.

West—

The Bidding: South bids one spade. West passes. North bids two clubs. East bids two diamonds. South bids two spades and all pass.

Deciding the Play. West leads 10 of diamonds and Declarer takes the trick with Ace of diamonds. Declarer now draws three rounds of trumps and exhausts opponents of them. Declarer has made four tricks. He is certain of two more spade tricks and two more club tricks or a total of eight tricks. He may thus make his contract. If, however, Declarer finesses Jack of clubs he will either make game or lose his contract. How should Declarer play?

The Error: Declarer plays conservatively, does not finesse and makes his contract.

The Correct Method: Declarer finesses and makes a small slam if it succeeds.

The Principle: At love score it is always permissible to try for game at risk of losing contract.

The WOMAN'S DAY
by ALLENE JUDSON

Tex Rickard, when dying, is said to have asked his wife about "little Tex". The only Rickard child is a little daughter, Maxine. The sentimentalist and the short story writer could make much of so intense a paternal longing for a son, breaking forth from the subconscious in a moment of delirium.

There's no denying that a son to both fathers and mothers is of much more concern than a daughter. They'll deny it, of course but a light in their eyes tells the story. Why is it? Just a hangover from an in the world denied women? A mated-old day when men had a place in the family name being handed on? Or what?

THE BERLIN SON
Speaking of sons, Ellin Mackay Berlin is reported nervously prostrated by the death of her 24-day-old son, Irving, Junior, who was said to have cemented the ruptured bond which had existed between her and her father since her marriage to song writer Irving Berlin. There's a little daughter. Again one wonders that the little daughter was powerless to do what the little son seemed to have done in the way of reuniting estranged hearts, and wonders if the loss of the daughter could cause such havoc.

CONNIE DENIES
Just why Connie Talmadge should continue to vehemently deny her engagement to Townsend Netherer, described as a Chicago millionaire, if she is engaged to him, is beyond understanding, unless denial obtains more newspaper space than confirmation.

It can't be that Connie is a bit self-conscious because it would be the third connubial venture! They do say that Hollywoodites are attempting to hush too-much matrimony records, rather than flaunt them as they once did.

SCHOOL FOR WIVES
Marshall Peng Yu-Hsiang has organized a school for the wives of his military officers. He explains that he wants them to gain more education during hours not devoted to their household duties.

Evidently the marshal hasn't heard that it's best for wives to be dumber than their husbands if domestic felicity is to prevail. He seems to overlook the fact that probably the beautiful-but-dumb policy made these women wives in the first place, and that a change of policy may make them less desirable in the eyes of their master.

Perhaps he's heard all that, and doesn't believe a word of it!

Dimon-Schultheis Wedding on Sunday

Miss Lucille E. Dimon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lott Dimon, 1714 First street, and Glenn W. Schultheis, also of Dixon, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. L. W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, performed the marriage ceremony. The young couple had as attendants Harold Boyer and Miss Marion Dimon, sister of the bride.

The bride was beautifully gowned in georgette over satin, in one of the new blue shades and she carried bright red roses and lilies. The maid of honor also wore a frock of georgette in a darker shade, and carried roses and sweet peas.

After the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, where the decorations were in lovely cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Schultheis left for a short wedding trip to the east.

Many friends extend best wishes to the young couple who will live in Dixon. The bridegroom is a foreman at the Brown Shoe Co. The bride is a charming young woman with many friends.

Birthday Dinner For Dr. J. W. Rice

Sunday the birthday anniversary of Dr. James W. Rice was celebrated with a family dinner at his home on Lincoln Way, the members of his family being present and a happy day resulting. Mrs. Claude Murphy of Park Ridge was an out of town guest. A feature of the dinner was the tempting white birthday cake with lighted pink candles, pink and white spring flowers further carrying out the petty color idea. Many nice gifts and good wishes galore from relatives and friends, filled the day with pleasant memories for Dr. Rice.

BASEBALL VETERANS HONOR WOMAN FAN
Williamsport, Pa.—(AP)—Women were not in great numbers at baseball games back in the 'nineties when men ate peanuts with one hand and twirled their sideburns with the other. There was one, however, who did not miss a single local game in the year of 1891.

She seemed to have a deep love for the game. As a matter of fact, she knew the difference between an error and a base hit.

Mrs. Minnie Willig is the woman. Now at 83 years old, she was the guests of honor at a banquet given here by 40 players who figured prominently in the games of three decades or more ago.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—FILLED DOORWAY
In rebuilding an old house, a charming bookcase was made right in the doorway in the living room by boarding it up on the back and putting the shelves across. In the next room the boarded door was papered like the room and unnoticed.

THE VISIONS OF FORD.

It is always interesting to hear what Henry Ford has to say about modern American civilization. Few men have influenced it as profoundly as he has; consequently, his impressions of it and predictions about it are bound to be worth hearing.

In his newest book, "My Philosophy of Industry," Ford again proves himself one of the major optimists of the day. It is odd, when you stop to think about it, that so few of our writers are optimists. We live in an age of unparalleled progress and wealth; yet most of the writing folk seem to feel that we are moving downhill. The prevailing tone of modern literature, indubitably, is one of pessimism.

But not for Ford. His book has a significance greater than we are apt to realize; for he, better than any other man alive, can see the tremendous possibilities of the age and can look forward with confidence.

Ford, for instance, believes, more than any other man in centuries, that we can mold the world to fit our own desires.

"Our fathers thought that life was hard, but we are beginning to see how preventable some of its hardships are," he writes. "We have some to believe that there is no necessity for economic distress in a world so richly furnished with resources. . . . Economic stoppage is not natural. The defect is not in the created order of things; it is in the human order."

In other words—we can abolish poverty forever and make hunger and want unknown things! In what former age could a man say that without being laughed at as a visionary?

He continues: "Our experiences are coming faster than ever before, both in our industrial world and in our domestic life. Many people see in these changes a world constantly growing worse. I do not believe this; I think we are headed in the right direction and that we should learn to interpret our new life rather than protest against it. We are entering a new era. Old landmarks have disappeared. Our new thinking and new doing are bringing us a new world, a new heaven and a new earth, for which prophets have been looking from time immemorial. Much of it is here already. But I wonder if we see it."

The age of power and machinery is upon us, whether we like it or not, and is going to stay with us. Because it has been here so short a time, it is easy to see only the ugly, depressing side of it and ignore its possibilities for the future. It is for that reason that Ford's book is important.

This man, who knows more about the age of power and machinery than any other, can look to the future with confidence. If we are wise we will listen to what he has to say, so that we can make sure that the new age will shape itself so as to bring us those great advances which it has made possible.

TURNING TOWARD ASIA.

The emergence of the United States as a great Asiatic power is described in the current Review of Reviews by Nicholas Roosevelt, student of far eastern affairs.

In the future, says Roosevelt, the United States will play the leading part in a new world in which Canada, China, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines will form a trading community unparalleled in wealth and opportunity.

Our trade across the Pacific, he points out, has grown from $283,000,000 in 1900 to $2,064,000,000 in 1927, and is still going up. But he warns that "prestige" counts for a great deal in the far east, and that America's commercial and industrial advance there would be greatly hampered if we let our naval strength lapse.

Whether this last point be correct or not, there is no question but that tremendous opportunities are emerging on our west coast. Some huge new fortunes will be built by the Americans who see them ahead of their fellows.

Einstein comes out now and calls electro-magnetism and gravity identical. It sounds like a power-trust idea.

Bachao Sakao, new king of Afghanistan and former water boy, has named as premier a relative of former King Amanullah. Looks as if Bachao is trying to carry water on both shoulders.

The night lasts six months in the Arctic Circle. It is said a group of Scotchmen are planning an expedition to one of the night clubs there.

King Amanullah had to flee his throne in Afghanistan when natives rebelled at his reforms. But he scored a victory for "new fangled ideas" just the same—he escaped in an airplane.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The whole bunch tumbled down through with hillside falling. There's the hill, and Scouty cried, "Wow, what a spill. How are we ever going to stop? This hill is pretty steep. I've turned a somersault or two, and now I guess we'll just keep rolling. It will do no good to weep."

"Grab hold of something," Clowny cried. "A bush whisked by right by my side. I wish I'd grabbed it good and tight. I'd then be safe and sound." However, nothing else came near. The path ahead looked very clear. Said Copy, "We won't stop until we reach the level ground."

And then a Trouble Tot chirped out, "Say, just what is this all about? I don't care much for tumbling, and my limbs are getting sore. Won't someone call this to a halt? I'll bet this is you Times' fault." Just then they knew a stream was near. They heard the water roar.

"Hurray!" cried Carpy, "I can see that we will very shortly be all through with this." (Copyright, 1929, NEA Service, Inc.)

THE INAUGURAL PAGEANT

From Washington to Hoover

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

(Associated Press Feature Writer)

Washington —(AP)—The inauguration of Andrew Jackson, seventh president of the United States, was celebrated with much "whoopie" by the people, "some in finery, some in rags," who adored the "chivalrous barbarian" from the frontier state of Tennessee.

Grieving at the recent death of his wife, whom he had tenderly cared for and fiercely defended against a "whispering campaign" of political enemies, the old warrior journeyed from his home, The Hermitage, to Washington to the plaudits of a people who saw in him the embodiment of the democratic ideals of the west.

A crowd estimated at from 10,000 to 20,000 jammed Washington to see the hero take the oath of office March 4, 1829. "I never saw such a crowd before," said Daniel Webster. "Persons have come 500 miles to see General Jackson and they really seem to think the county is rescued from dreadful danger."

The scene in the capital is described by John Spencer Bassett in his biography of Jackson:

"By 10 o'clock the avenue was crowded with carriages of every description. From the splendid baroque and coach down to wagons and carts filled with women and children, in all manner of dress, for it was the people's day, the men all walked."

Before noon the steps surrounding terraces and the large enclosed yard to the east of the capitol were "alive with humanity." People on the west front, looking down Pennsylvania avenue, saw a small company approaching on foot. All wore their hats except a tall gentleman in the center whose erect figure and white head were recognized as Jackson's.

The procession followed the avenue up the hill on the south side of the capitol and the crowds rushed there to get a glimpse of "Old Hickory."

On the capitol portico was a table covered with a red cloth behind it the closed door from the rotunda.

gentlemen who made a circle in front of him and kept back the crowd by main force." He finally escaped by a side entrance and went to his lodgings at Gadsby's hotel.

"The rabble fell on the refreshments, jostling waiters as they appeared at the doors, breaking china and glass," said an eye-witness of the party. "They stood in muddy boots on damask covered chairs, spoiled the carpets and caused such a press that it was no longer possible for those inside to escape by the doors."

Examination of Eyes Discloses
Other AilmentsBy Michael Goldenburg, M. D.
Chicago, Illinois.

This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

If the eye is the window of the soul, one may add that it is like wise the window to the physical state of the body. To appreciate the former platitude one must be a ro-mancer; to appreciate the latter one must be a physician trained in the study of diseases of the eye in their relation to disease of the body. By far the greater number of people who consult an oculist do so because their vision is somewhat disturbed or they are suffering from headaches, for which they desire glasses. During the course of examination for the purpose, all the minute parts of the eye should be thoroughly inspected for abnormalities or evidence of disease. This is best accomplished if the pupils are widely dilated by some form of belladonna.

A layman looking at an eye is attracted by its color, brilliancy, and expression, which varies in health, disease and mood of the being. The color is contributed by the mosaic-like distribution of the various hues of the iris; its brilliancy by the luster of the anterior transparent part of the eye (cornea) and the mood by a combination of these two factors plus the reaction (contraction and dilation) of the black pupil to the stimulus. Deviations from the normal express themselves in a characteristic manner, which to the trained observer, correctly indicate early signs of disturbance at times in remote parts of the body such as disease of the brain and spinal cord; disease of the blood and various local and systemic infections.

Our ability to examine in detail the sensitive parts of the interior of the eye is one of the great assets to modern medicine. In no other parts of the body is such direct observation possible of small blood vessels, nerve tissues and body fluids. In these refined delicate tissues are expressed changes that could not be detected in larger and less delicate structural parts. Thus are we enabled actually to see the first changes in small blood vessels that later may denote high blood pressure, diabetes of the blood, kidneys and diabetes; disease of the brain, and sometimes even a brain tumor formation. These changes may be present long before the patient is in any way aware of their existence. The value of such early information is self evident.

To recognize these early signs one must be trained to do so, and suggestions made accordingly. The fitting of glasses in itself is a comparative simple matter, but to forego the advantages possible of such an examination by a physician, would seem unwise in this day of preventive medicine.

The Maytag tub was originated and designed by the Maytag Company and a $900,000 aluminum foundry, the finest in America, was built to produce it economically.

It keeps the water hot for an entire washing, and is shaped to guide the gyroformed water into many cross currents. The sediment trap collects the loosened dirt and keeps the water clean. The gyrotator is counter-sunk into the tub so that it will not tangle the clothes nor injure buttons.

STATE'S BUDGET EXPECTED THIS WEEK; DELAYED

Ill. General Assembly to Get Down to Its Business Now

BY B. P. BOLTON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Pledged to follow the course of economy, Representative Homer Tice of Greenville, newly named chairman of the house committee on appropriations, will have a chance to exercise the axe this week.

For, although the house has barely got under way, the biennial onslaught against the state treasury has started. When the first sessions of the appropriations committee are held, probably Tuesday afternoon, the group will have a dozen or more bills to consider.

Already a week late, Governor Emerson's budget for the biennium is expected to be submitted to the house Tuesday. The Civil Administrative code directs that the governor shall have the budget ready "as soon as possible and not later than four weeks after the organization of the general assembly." Four weeks have passed—the assembly was organized January 9—and the budget, expected last week, is still awaited.

Budget Delayed.
This delay is attributed by observers to the fact that the budget this year has somewhat the aspects of a "fatherless child." Going out of office, Governor Len Small would be inclined to view the future financing of the state apathetically, and continuing in Governor Louis L. Emerson has been much too busy to complete the details of the ponderous tome. The preparation of the budget is a six months affair, starting September 15 prior to organization of the assembly. On that date the director of finance is obliged to distribute to all code office directors, elective officers in the executive department, institutions, and the judicial department, proper blanks, on which to detail revenues and expenditures for the ensuing two years, and an estimate for the succeeding two years. These blanks, properly filled out, must be returned to the director of

THIS PROVES IT

If a thing is TRUE, it's a FACT. But the fact is, it takes seven steps to prove it in letter golf. At least, that's par, and one solution is on page 7.

T	R	U	E
F	A	C	T

THE RULES

1.—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2.—You can change only one letter at a time.

3.—You must have a complete word of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4.—The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 7.

Often Gives Warning of Disordered Kidneys.

ARE you always lame and achy—suffering nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells?

Are kidney excretions too frequent, scanty or burning in passage? These are often signs of sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected.

To promote normal kidney action and assist your kidneys in cleansing your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Listen everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. J. Holland, 375 Silver St., Boston, Mass., says: "My kidneys didn't seem to act properly. I had dull pains in my back and was annoyed a lot with dizzy spells and headache. My nerves were bad and everything seemed to bother me. After using Doan's Pills, I was soon feeling like a different person."

With Honce on His Trip Around State of Illinois

BY CHARLES HONCE
(Associated Press News Editor)

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—In the language of the Pottawattomies Peoria means "Beautiful View."

The Pottawattomies who roamed this region more than a century ago are gone but the beautiful view still is here. Although a century of industrial development has made Peoria the second city in the state with a metropolitan population of 117,000, beauty has not been forgotten.

In fact, beauty and business struggle on every piece of literature put out by the city's boosters. One folder gives equal prominence to the legends "Peoria, The Beautiful City," "On the Scenic Highway," and "Peoria, the $200,000,000 Market, On the Deep Waterway."

As a testimony to the beauty end of it there are the words of a well known author and traveler, "Nowhere in the wide world is there to be found such mundane beauty as from the bluffs of Peoria, overlooking the Illinois river."

That dual personality of business and beauty builds downtown skyscrapers with one hand while laying out magnificent parks and river bluff boulevards with the other, and even the skyscrapers, constructed along modern lines, have that beauty of vertical line that architects now strive for.

Peoria is not content to claim a mere century of background but calls attention to the fact that more than two hundred years ago this was the site of a French Mission and trading post, which was in contact with a powerful tribe of Illinois Indians.

Where once was a lonely wilderness trading post there now are one hundred and twenty-five major manufacturing plants and 225 smaller ones with an investment stake of $129,000,000. Statistics may make dry reading, but an industrial output of $212,000,000 a year and a payroll of $40,000,000 have more than an academic interest here where the money is distributed.

This industrial output involves many nationally advertised products, including tractors, washing machines, agricultural implements, furnaces, oil burners, stock feed, food products, canned meats and cigars. Peoria, of course, once was a great distilling center, but as the popular saying has it, those days are gone forever, and the plants have been turned to other uses.

Further statistics will inform you that Peoria leads the world in the production of commercial solvents—and that it ranks first in the manufacture of high priced washing machines and track laying type of tractors. In the midst of a great agricultural section, Peoria naturally is an important market for livestock and grain.

Peoria expects to give Uncle Sam a surprise when the census is taken in 1930. Although it has a metropolitan population of 117,000, some of its populous suburbs just can't be induced to come within the city fold. However the census committee of the Association of Commerce thinks there may be a change of heart before 1930 and that if the census takers do not overlook anybody the city proper will go over the 100,000 mark.

Peoria's recent annexation experiences have not been entirely happy. Averyville, a community surrounded by Peoria, was voted in not long since, but some Averyville residents claimed irregularities and the case is before the Supreme Court. Some readers may recall that after the annexation vote, the chief of police of Averyville declining to surrender his star, was arrested on a charge of impersonating an officer.

der his star, was arrested on a charge of impersonating an officer.

Advised as just "one sleep" from three fourths of the total population of the United States, Peoria has been putting itself on the map as a convention city. Last year 116 state, national and international conventions met here and this year Peoria expects to give Chicago an even better run for its money.

Peoria also has kept pace with aeronautical developments and its airport is a busy spot. The removal here of The National Airways from Lomax, Ill., is expected to give a further impetus to aviation development and a municipal flying field now is under consideration. Another modern field has not been neglected for Peoria has its radio station.

The city's eight miles of water frontage seems to be plentifully supplied with bridges but still a new one is to be constructed this year, further opening up the industrial area of East Peoria, across the Illinois river. A river terminal also is in prospect and the revival of river traffic will find this city prepared.

Peoria's past is one of great historical interest. Lincoln's name appears often. In fact the first of the emancipator's famous debates, with Douglas was held here on Oct. 16, 1854. The invitation that twenty leading citizens of Peoria forwarded to Lincoln is preserved here.

Dated Sept. 23, 1854 it reads:

"Hon. Abraham Lincoln,

"Dear Sir: "Understanding that Judge Douglas is expecting to address our citizens on the 16th of next month on the principles of the Nebraska-Kansas bill, and feeling that what he may then advance should not be suffered to pass without suitable notice, the undersigned on behalf of themselves and the Whigs of Peoria, are exceedingly desirous that if not too great a tax upon your time and strength you will consent to be present and take a convenient opportunity after the speech of Judge D. to reply to it and give us your own views upon the subject."

Lincoln found it convenient to be present and to reply and the famous debate was on. The whole account is printed in the Peoria newspapers of the time.

The Transcript, one of the veterans in the history of Illinois Journalism, is published here. It wasn't so many years ago that George Fitch, the famous American humorist, was conducting his column in The Transcript. Here were born the best pocket essays which amused readers throughout the county a decade ago. The Transcript, together with the Journal now are published by Merle and Carl P. Slane, and both are members of The Associated Press. At the masthead of the Journal, established by the late Henry E. Pindell is published Mr. Pindell's newspaper creed, a classic in its way:

"To inform without bias; to advise without rancor; and to intervene without malice; to be absolutely independent in religion and politics, and blind to race, creed and color; to account no victory won which brings distress to the people and no battle lost which is waged in behalf of their just demands; to serve the larger public interest with vigilance, courage and justice—this is the spirit and purpose to which my newspapers are dedicated."

Pimples

If you want to get rid of ugly, disgusting pimples in a hurry, try the harmless new remedy, in convenient tablet form, called Kitagran. It gets rid of the impurities in the blood so quickly that the skin clears up right away—often within 24 hours. You can get Kitagran from Rowland's Pharmacy who will return your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied.—Adv.

Fred High Says—

Corpus Christi, Texas, has doubled its population during the past five years. Its annual pay roll has been increased $730,000 during that time.

The Corpus Christi Times of January 16, 1929, devoted nearly two pages to reporting the Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Ralph Bradford, manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce, reviewing its activities for the past five years, said: "Beginning with a very small appropriation for advertising the first year, we increased our schedule each year, until Corpus Christi soon took a prominent place among the advertised towns of the country. The results are well known to you."

Ralph Bradford has been manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce since its organization five years ago. In his address at the Annual Meeting, speaking of the ten major planks adopted for their program of work shortly after the organization of their Chamber of Commerce, he said: "The Fourth Plank—Promote the Spirit of Cooperation and Harmony Among Our People. Most of you know what conditions had been here prior to the organization of this Chamber of Commerce. You all know that no factional quarrels have ever been allowed to enter the Chamber of Commerce. We started our efforts at harmony by getting Fred High to come here for a week's campaign in which the gospel of cooperation and team work was successfully preached, and in which we did much to wipe out old animosities. After that it was our policy to keep all questions on a basis of how they affected the community rather than how they affected a faction."

In the week's campaign mentioned by Mr. Bradford, we made three trips to visit outlying districts. On one of these trips we covered more than 160 miles and held meetings in three different towns. On this trip we were accompanied by the Corpus Christi Band and about one hundred automobiles, all loaded with happy business and professional men and women of Corpus Christi. The presence of the "Good Willers," as they were called, made these meetings in the neighboring towns more than a success, for they have since steadily borne fruit very important to Corpus Christi. Mr. Henry Baldwin, the present of the Chamber of Commerce, after our first Good Will trip, stated publicly, "Our trips to Taft and Gregory alone was worth all the effort and expense of this campaign."

At that time there was much political, social and religious strife in Corpus Christi. To bring about a union of factions and to reach a common objective was the problem that had to be worked out. How well we succeeded can be judged by what Ralph Bradford wrote a little later: "The week's campaign had the effect of a community revival. I believe everybody here has a larger vision of community service. I regard Fred High's work here as the most important and fundamental step we could have taken in the development of our program. Many times the expense, many times the effort put on this week's work would have been a small investment in proportion to the good it accomplished." Before I left Corpus Christi, the Mayor, Dr. P. G. Lovenskold, voluntarily called me in to his office and handed me a letter. In this letter, among other things, he said: "The Greater Community and Better Business Institute is the greatest things that has ever come to Corpus Christi."

The campaign at Corpus Christi was a success because the whole city gave the entire week to promoting its community interest. The merchants closed their stores during the hours that meetings were held for merchants and salespeople. In spite of hot weather there was enthusiastic support. At the meeting on Monday night there were but two hundred people present. The interest grew steadily until the closing night, when we had 1300 in attendance, which was 500 more than we had anticipated. At the last minute we had to go to the churches and lodge halls to get seats to take care of the unexpected guests.

Since that time I have kept closely in touch with the development at Corpus Christi. The information I gathered during the week I spent in Corpus Christi and the story of its development since that time furnished me material for newspaper and magazine articles which have been published from time to time. That this continued cooperation and support has been appreciated by Corpus Christi may be judged by the following which appeared in the Corpus Christi Times several weeks ago:

"Reverberations from the Fred High campaign held in Corpus Christi more than four years ago still continue to be heard in the form of favorable publicity for Corpus Christi contained in Fred High's many speeches and newspaper articles."

It is worth the time, the trouble and the money of the people of every community to set aside one week to be devoted to efforts promoting the city's welfare. It is my prediction that in the years to come the most advanced communities in the United States will be those neighborhoods in the larger cities and those smaller cities and town and villages that have set aside one week each year for such a program. This may be done with or without outside help. But a series of community mass meetings, with an open forum where all problems of the community's interest are thrashed out is necessary for the information and the inspiration of the community's citizens.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 3.

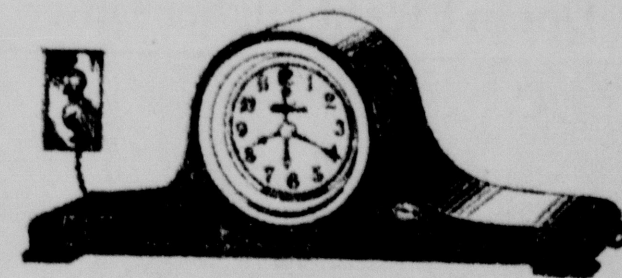

The Golden Text was, "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works" (Psalms 145:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love" (I John 4:7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The precise form of God must be of small importance in comparison with the sublime question, What is infinite Mind or divine Love? No form nor physical combination is adequate to represent infinite Love" (p. 236).

The New Mallory Automatic Coil

Another Mallory Development That Automatically Boosts the Spark for Starting!

The cause of hard starting can generally be traced to weak sparks, although the coil itself may not be defective. Weak sparks are caused by the starting motor draining the primary ignition circuit.

Heretofore, coils have been designed to operate from approximately eight volts, which is the voltage in the ignition system when the engine is running and generator charging.

The voltage of the battery drops when the starting motor is engaged, sometimes as low as four volts and even less, especially if the engine is cold and the oil in the crank case is stiff. Coils designed to operate from eight volts will produce WEAK sparks from low voltage, when HOT SPARKS are really needed.

The new MALLORY AUTOMATIC COIL automatically changes as soon as the starting motor is engaged, so as to produce extremely hot sparks from the low voltage, and as the engine starts, it changes automatically to operate from the higher voltage when the engine is running.

The MALLORY AUTOMATIC COIL serves the purpose of two coils—one for starting—one for running—a feature found in no other coil.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Because she diagnoses her beauty behind yellow spectacles and ill-fitting clothes, Ruth Lester, private secretary, is able to work unnoticed four months for "HARDY HARRY" BORDEN, notorious for his affairs with women.

Ruth would resign but for a romance which springs up for a moment between her and JACK HAYWARD, whose office is just across the narrow airshaft from Borden's private office.

They become engaged on a Friday night in January. Ruth comes to the office next morning with her disguise removed and BENNY SMITH, office boy, is instantly infatuated. Showing his contrary to do her disguise before Borden's arrival, she puts on the glasses.

But is interrupted by a phone call from the notorious woman with the contrary value whom Borden has previously refused to talk to.

Borden arrives and Ruth, summoned to his office with the mail, presents him with an archaic letter which she has been carrying in his pocket with an angry oath. He asks her to get $500 in cash at the bank and to make reservations for two on the 2:15 train for Winter Haven.

Ruth fears whom the second train is for when RITA DUBOIS, night club dancer, calls on Borden. While she is in his private office, MISS BORDEN, his estranged wife and mother of his two children, calls to get her monthly allowance. Hearing Rita's name, Mrs. Borden awakes and Ruth helps her into her chair before her desk. Mrs. Borden gets a glimpse of the pistol which Jack has given Ruth to keep in the lower drawer of her desk, as a protection against him.

At the same time he had purchased an identical weapon for promising to return at 1:30. When Rita comes out of the inner office Borden waves a torn bank note at her, ordering her to keep her part of the bargain.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

HARRY BORDEN was chuckling as he closed the outer door upon Rita Dubois. "They all fall for me, eh, Miss Lester?"

"Listen—and get this through your thick head: I want you to go to my apartment and pick up a couple of bags that my man has packed for me. Take them to the station, check them and bring me the checks. And make it snappy—hurry!"

Borden passed into his private office, but almost immediately reappeared. "Bring in the letters you have finished. Ruth, I'll sign them now, and Benny, you'd better hold down this office until Miss Lester comes back. I don't want it to be left unattended. No telling who'll stroll in. I'm expecting Adams this morning, and if he comes in, tell him to wait."

"Guess I'm sort of nervous to day," Borden confessed, with a wry grin. "A week-end at Winter Haven will do me good. Who was that chap that came in this morning, all set up over losing money on some of my stock?"

"He wouldn't give me his name," Ruth answered. "He insisted on seeing you personally—said he would be back. I dealt with him as tactfully as I could."

"Tact and efficiency are your long suits, aren't they, child?" Borden smiled. "Draw your chair around to this side of the desk. We'd better go over the figures in this letter to Nathan. I'm not sure I'm going to let him hold me up for a bigger commission."

A vision of Elizabeth Borden's white, suffering face turned Ruth ill. "Then won't you please leave a check with me for her?"

"No!" Borden was curiously violent. "I'll be here, and I'll make her ask me for it, make her beg for it. Don't you worry your pretty head over Mrs. Borden, child. She looks soft, but believe me—"

Benny Smith's noisy arrival cut short whatever confidence Harry Borden may have been about to make. The employer spoke curtly

"BIG TEN" RACE GOES INTO HIGH GEAR THIS WEEK

Four Conference Games Scheduled for the Current Week

By PAUL R. MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The drive for the Big Ten basketball crown this week shifts from low to high gear where it will race along until the finish of the campaign, March 2.

Four conference battles, headlined by the clash between Michigan's undefeated team and Ohio State at Ann Arbor Saturday night, lift the season from the lull that has prevailed for the past three weeks because of semester examinations. The other games are: Northwestern at Indiana, Tuesday; and Illinois at Chicago and Indiana at Iowa on Saturday night.

Butler College of Indianapolis, conqueror of Purdue, invades Illinois tonight for what promises to be a lively non-conference skirmish. Only three teams, Purdue, Wisconsin and Minnesota, will be idle during the week.

The Michigan-Ohio state game will be an interesting barometer of what may be expected during the remainder of the championship chase. Michigan, which loaded into undisputed possession of first place, January 21, when Wisconsin defeated Purdue, has been idle since January 14. If it defeats Ohio State by a decisive margin it will not only lay fears of staleness because of inactivity, but will become a greater favorite to win the title than ever. The Wolverines have a longer but somewhat easier schedule left than their principal rivals, Purdue and Wisconsin which are tied for second place with five victories and one defeat. They have eight games left but do not have to meet Purdue or Indiana, while Wisconsin just play them at Ann Arbor. Michigan hand ed Wisconsin its only defeat at Madison, 31 to 23.

Wisconsin and Purdue have six games each to play, including their own battle at Madison, February 25. Iowa edged into a tie for fourth place with Ohio State Saturday night by defeating Chicago in a thriller here, 23 to 21, while Ohio State invaded and defeated the Army, 44 to 30, in an inter-sectional game. The defeat plunged Chicago to the cellar with six straight losses.

Hooks and Slides

One Vote For Sharkey

Pa. Stribling, on a scouting expedition, was one of the witnesses at the recent Sharkey-Christner thing in New York. The father of Willie, who has a date with Sharkey in Miami next month, was not one of the reported many who thought that the 35-year-old rubber puddler of Akron should have copped the decision from Sharkey.

Pa. who made a lot of charts and graphs of the big Boston noise maker, marked down seven rounds for Sharkey and awarded only two to the old man from Akron, as Dan Morgan calls the town.

"Maybe I was a little biased," Pa. added naively. "Because I wanted Sharkey to win so badly."

Pa. thinks that his boy Willie is a cinch to win because Sharkey can be hit by a right hand and, apparently he thinks that his boy Willie can hit as hard as Christner.

Wasn't Even Original

Pa. chuckled when he told the New York sports writers about the wire that Willie had sent to Sharkey before the fight.

Willie's well wishes were as follows: "Don't let this big bum hit you on the chin. Save it for me."

The Striblings apparently have been told about the goat getting stunts that some of the old-timers used to pull. And, if we're not mistaken the message was an exact copy of one of that George Engle used to send around when he was handling Harry Greb.

But It's Warm in Florida, Bill
Bill Evans, who ought to know something about the subject, does not agree with the theory that spring training is necessary for an umpire.

"All a qualified umpire needs is exercise to keep down his weight and he can get that in a gymnasium," he said. "One look at a fast ball and a curve ought to be enough to get his eyes in shape. Working in 20 or 30 games before the regular season starts is nothing but an unnecessary strain that will be felt in the second half of the season."

His Future Was Past

Joe Cox, a star guard on the Ohio State basketball team for several seasons, quit the squad recently and joined in a semi-pro team in Columbus.

He wanted another letter and all that he loved his Alma Mater but he couldn't see the coach's way of doing things, he told friends in Dayton. "The coach said the team wasn't going any place this year and that he had to build for the future," he said. "So he pulled me out of a regular position and sat me on the bench and put in Fessler and Larkins to get them some experience for the next two years. I wasn't going to sit on the bench, so I just quit."

Storing up The Razz

The Down Town Coaching Association of Columbus, which rode Dr. Jack Wilce out of the coaching job at Ohio State, accepted passively the inauguration of a new football administration headed by Sam Williamson, George Hauser and Don Miller.

"They're just keeping quiet for a year," a Columbus man said recently. "They'll give it to Williamson next fall and give it to him plenty."

Balkline Billiards Tourney in New York

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—With six masters of the cue in the field, the world's championship 182 balkline billiards tournament opens at the Level Club tonight.

To Edouard Horemans, the present title-holder, falls the honor of opening the tournament. The slender Belgian meets Kirney Matsuyama, little Japanese holder of the world's junior championship, in the first of the 15 four hundred points matches. Tomorrow afternoon Welker Cochran, one of two American hopes, will play Eric Hagelacher, German champion. In the evening Jake Schaefer, son of the old Wizard, will meet Felix Grange of France. Play will continue every afternoon and evening except Sunday with the windup a week from tomorrow night.

For the first time in many years Willie Hoppe, long monarch of the balkline game, will not be a contestant. He finished sixth in a field of seven in the last tournament at Washington in 1927, and now devotes himself almost exclusively to three-cushion billiards.

The winner will take the coveted crown which will carry with it a cash award of approximately $10,000.

Detroit Girl Holds Three Skating Titles

Minneapolis, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Miss Loretta Neitzel of Detroit, today holds three new world's skating records.

ords and the women's amateur senior outdoor speed skating championships of America.

Miss Neitzel set new marks in the 440 yard and one mile events in competition, and then, in a race against time, established a record for one-sixth of a mile.

Five seconds fell off the old time in the 440 when Miss Neitzel covered the distance in 39½ seconds faster than the record time of Mrs. Potter.

In the race against time Miss Neitzel beat her own figure of 32 seconds for one-sixth of a mile, making it in 30½ seconds.

Miss Neitzel so far outclassed the field of women skaters that she had little difficulty in amassing 110 points for the championship. Marie Becker of Chicago, finished second with 50 points and Miss Mildred Bjork, Minneapolis, was third with 40.

Allen Potts of Brooklyn, N. Y., won the international men's senior outdoor title, while the intermediate honors went to Douglas Ellison of Chicago.

Mt. Morris Lucky to Win Saturday Night

By a break of luck in the last few minutes of play, Mt. Morris succeeded in defeating the Dixon high school basketball squad at Mt. Morris Saturday evening, the final count being 25 to 17. Dixon led up to the last quarter and had outplayed their opponents. At the close of the third period the count stood 17 to 15 in favor of Dixon. Mt. Morris opened the final quarter with a desperate attack and with long shots and a sudden reversal of form, managed to pull the game out of the fire, at the same time holding Dixon scoreless. The lightweight team also met defeat.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

TRUE RECLAMATION

The Boulder Dam project for the Colorado river brings to mind the charge that has been made against conservationists that they would hinder progress in the name of beauty and selfish fishing. Yet there is hardly a conservationist in America who would not applaud the Colorado project, in spite of the fact that it is the most picturesque river in the entire world. Government engineers, who have been working on the idea for twenty-five years, report that the institution of this series of dams will permit 50,000,000 people to live in an area which now can support less than half a million.

As George F. Stratton pointed out in "The Country Gentleman," that river carries material interests, developed and undeveloped, actually greater than those of the thirteen original states which precipitated the War of the Revolution. Its water flow would be sufficient to irrigate the whole present farming area of those original states one foot deep every year. It would, before so irrigated, furnish sufficient power to operate all the factories and railroads now serving those states. Its channel drains more than twice as much land as the area of the original United States.

The dams would range around six to seven hundred feet in height each and would impound as high as fifty million acre feet of water. Power would be reckoned in many millions of horsepower, and the power would not interfere with the greater use of the water as irrigation.

The Colorado river runs at a tremendous rate of speed through the entire course through several states, and it is almost all canyons. The water impounded would overflow no land, would ruin no recreational areas.

But even if it did, it would not be condemned by sportsmen and conservationists. The economic value would be immeasurably greater than the recreational. It is a project on a major scale, of national importance. What the conservationists decries may be divided into two parts; first, the conversion of natural resources into commercial projects when the recreational resources are economically more important; second, when—and this is too often the case—the so-called "development" is simply a stock promotion scheme by which nobody is benefited, and the public loses forever the resources which it donated to the promoters to raise their money on.

Sonnenberg Defends His Title This Eve

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, former Dartmouth college star, defends his heavyweight wrestling championship in a finish match with Howard Cantowine of Iowa, in Madison Square Garden tonight. It will be Sonnenberg's fourth bout since he won the title recently in Boston from Ed (Strangler) Lewis. Since then he has beaten Charlie Hansen in Kansas City; Frank Jorgenson in St. Louis; and John Smith in Philadelphia.

Mandell Hooks Up With Chicago Fox

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, world's lightweight champion, will tune up his right cross and left hook again tonight when he clashes with Don Davis of Chicago in a 10 round bout.

They will meet at 140 pounds and Mandell's title will not be threatened even though a decision will be announced.
